CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

"Even before the incredible events of Wednesday night in Amsterdam, this campaign has been one of the most epic in the Club's history"

Dear Supporter,

What a journey it continues to be!

We are near the end of a season that will live long in our memories for so very many reasons. Moments we could only dream of that have now become reality.

We started the season back at Wembley while we overcame delays to our new home. A period that also saw us host a domestic cup game at Milton Keynes. Mauricio, his coaching staff and the players simply got on with the task in hand and were ultimate professionals. They have my total respect.

Six weeks ago we came home after a long and difficult journey. None of us will ever forget that emotional night here against Crystal Palace, when Premier League football returned to N17 as we opened the doors and turnstiles of our amazing new stadium.

Today we have our last Premier League match of the season and the opportunity to end our home campaign on a high with a win which could elevate us to third place in the Premier League.

Securing a top four spot to give us Champions League football for a fourth successive season is in itself something of which to be immensely proud.

But today is not our last game of the campaign. Heroic performances against Manchester City and Ajax have taken us to a Champions League Final.

Even before the incredible events of Wednesday night in Amsterdam, this campaign has been one of the most epic in the Club's history.

I am delighted for Mauricio and the team – it is so well deserved and evidence of the truly amazing spirit we have within this squad. I hope they realise the total joy and exhilaration they have given us fans. We are so proud of them all.

To reach the final against Liverpool on 1 June is something we have all achieved together. Everyone contributes to a team - staff, players, management and fans.

No one person can do this alone, it's the strength of everyone pulling together in the same direction which brings success and I thank each and every one who is part of this team including the millions of our fans around the world.

"It's been unbelievable and now it's time to believe"

We dare to dream and we want nothing more than to bring the Champions League trophy to North London.

It's been unbelievable and now it's time to believe.

After all...To Dare is to Do.

COYS!

Mauricio Pochettino

Good afternoon and welcome back here for the final time this season.

What a campaign it has been so far. It almost feels like a lifetime ago that we opened the season with a win at Newcastle United yet here we are 90 minutes from the end of another Premier League season.

Of course we will still have one more game to play after we booked our place in the Champions League Final on Wednesday with a 3-2 win at Ajax in dramatic fashion. It was an evening none of us will ever forget. Sometimes matches and moments remind us why we all love football and to share those moments of celebrations with my players, the staff and you fans was incredible, it was one of the best nights of my life.

I have said it before and I will say it again; the players are heroes, superheroes. We found ourselves 3-0 down on aggregate yet never gave up. The players showed belief in each other and their individual quality and found a way to claw us back into the match and then into the final.

A thank you to you all for your support. We have shared many special evenings together in Europe and we are so grateful for your dedication and the commitment you show in following us around the continent, at our home and to those that are unable to attend matches also.

We have already made some history yet we want to be remembered as winners of the competition. That is our dream and we will do everything to make that happen in Madrid next month.

For now though, we must park those thoughts and feelings temporarily and return our focus to the league. We are close to achieving another top four finish and that is our aim today; to cement that and sign off with a victory here. In front of us is another good side as we welcome Everton and their manager Marco Silva. They have finished the season well and will want to finish as high as they can themselves today.

As this is my last column of the season I want to wish you all a good summer and I hope to see you in Madrid!

Enjoy the game.

WELCOME TO OUR NEW RECRUITS

We were delighted to introduce our current crop of Under-8s at the recent home game against Huddersfield Town. The Pre-Academy group made up of 17 players have since signed registration papers that will see them fully enrol as Under-9 Academy players as of 1 July this year.

The boys have been identified throughout our extensive scouting and recruitment networks across London, Essex and the Home Counties. They have all embarked on an opportunity that involved training at local Development Centres before being identified to take the step up and represent our Pre-Academy cohort, where they ultimately trained twice a week and competed against other Pre-Academy squads at Hotspur Way.

Their continued commitment, hard work and dedication has allowed them to learn and develop while keeping enjoyment at the forefront. Our Academy staff would like to say a big thank you for the unwavering support shown to the boys by their parents and families throughout the last few seasons both on and off the field.

We wish the group all the success throughout their early journey with the club's Academy and hope we get the chance to see them grace the new stadium one day in the not so distant future.

Mauricio is on a four-man shortlist for the award, which also includes title-chasing bosses Pep Guardiola of Manchester City and Jurgen Klopp of Liverpool, with Wolves manager Nuno Espirito Santo completing the nominees.

LEGENDS LATEST

The Spurs Legends team has been recognised for their work in the community at the 2019 Pride of Essex Sports Awards.

Led by our 1984 UEFA Cup-winning striker Mark Falco, the team takes part in friendly fixtures across the south of the UK on Sundays with the aim of helping to raise funds for charities and local sports clubs. As a result, they received the Pride of Essex 'Special Recognition Award' at a glitzy ceremony at Chigwell Hall last week.

Things haven't gone quite as well for the Legends on the pitch lately as they've suffered rare back-to-back losses, going down 3-2 to Lloyd's Vets at Enfield Town FC on 28 April before incurring a 6-1 defeat to a younger MK Dons Legends side at Stadium MK last weekend (5 May). David Howells scored penalties in both games, substitute Glen Southam also on target in the first match. Pascal Chimbonda, Sean Davis and Steve Hodge all came into the starting XI last Sunday while iconic former skipper Steve Perryman was in attendance in his role as Associate Director at MK Dons, but the hosts won through goals from Luke Chadwick, Drewe Broughton, Izale McLeod and a Scott Taylor hat-trick.

The Legends are back in action at Rowley Lane, Arkley, Barnet next Sunday (19 May, 3pm), Hambleden Sports & Social Club on 9 June (2pm), Aveley FC on 23 June (3pm) and Maidstone United FC on 30 June (2pm).

Spurs Legends (v MK Dons Legends): G Howells, Statham, Galvin, Vega, Nethercott, Chimbonda, Davis, Watson, Doherty, D Howells, Hodge. Substitutes: Falco, Edmonds, Wilkinson, Jarrett, M Southam, G Southam, Chinery, Jallow (GK). Attendance: 1,288.

NEVILLE SECURES MONTHLY AWARD

Spurs Ladies star Ashleigh Neville has been named FA Women's Championship Player of the Month for April.

The left-back, who memorably scored twice to cap a stunning 3-2 win at Charlton Athletic on Easter Sunday, saw off competition from the Manchester United duo of Lauren James and Charlie Devlin plus Sheffield United's Danielle Cox to claim the prize.

She becomes the first defender to win the award and the third Spurs player to collect the monthly prize in 2018/19 after forwards Rianna Dean (October) and Sarah Wiltshire (January). Spurs Ladies have since gone on to secure a promotion spot in the division after a 1-1 draw at Aston Villa.

"I'm really honoured to receive this award, and at such an important time in the season as well," Ashleigh said. "To be one of the first defenders to even be nominated is amazing but to actually be the first defender to win the award is such an incredible feeling."

In further good news for Spurs Ladies, Ashleigh's team-mate Rianna has been included in the England Under-21 squad for this month's Open Nordic Tournament in Sweden.

Farewell Mike...

Today marks the final home game for our Commercial Manager, Mike Rollo, whose retirement this month will bring the curtain down on almost 35 years of service at the Club.

Mike first started working with us in October, 1983, in the role of Promotions Manager and since then – apart from an 18-month spell away from the Club – has undertaken a whole variety of roles within our commercial and hospitality departments.

A lifelong Spurs fan, Mike has seen tremendous change throughout his years with the Club. One of his first moves was to deliver our very first shirt sponsor which was secured within a couple of months of his arrival when we struck a deal with Holsten.

With corporate hospitality just taking off in the early 1980s, Mike was tasked with filling the brand-new corporate boxes in the new West Stand at White Hart Lane and continued to do so as the old stadium's hospitality facilities and lounges grew in numbers.

Among other notable achievements, Mike instigated the launch of the telephone information service Spursline in December, 1986, and was responsible for organising pre-match entertainment at the Lane, including the likes of marching bands, dogs jumping through flaming hoops, circus acts and live bands performing! He is less well-known for welcoming Club staff to their new Lilywhite House offices performing as Elvis in full costume!

All at the Club would like to wish him a long and happy retirement.

Golden Goal

EACH MATCHDAY, ANDY GREEVES LOOKS BACK ON A NOTABLE GOAL FROM OUR RICH HISTORY AND PROFILES ITS SCORER. THIS AFTERNOON, HE REMEMBERS ANDY TURNER'S STOPPAGE-TIME WINNER AGAINST EVERTON IN SEPTEMBER 1992.

Andy Turner tussles with Everton's Kevin Harper

Woolwich-born winger Andy Turner made his senior debut in our first-ever Premier League fixture – a goalless draw away to Southampton on 15 August, 1992. In the process, he became the eighth youngest player to feature for us in a league match at that time – aged just 17 years and 145 days.

Turner's run in the first team continued with another start in our 2-0 home defeat to Coventry City four days later, while he featured as a substitute in our 2-0 triumph over Sheffield United at White Hart Lane on 2 September. He also came off the bench as a replacement for Darren Anderton nine minutes into the second half during our meeting with Everton in N17 three days later.

We trailed 1-0 at the break in that match, having gone behind to a Peter Beardsley goal three minutes before the interval. Our goalkeeper Ian Walker made two fine saves during the first half as the Toffees dominated the opening 45 minutes. With Neil Ruddock suspended for the visit of the Merseysiders, Paul Allen captained us on the day. It was the stand-in skipper who got our equaliser with 11 minutes left on the clock. After a shot from Gordon Durie was helped towards the Everton goal by new signing Teddy Sheringham, Allen got to the ball first after Neville Southall's save to smash the ball into the net from close range.

Our winner came deep into stoppage time when a long throw from Andy Gray could only be helped into the path of Turner by stranded Toffees goalkeeper Southall. The former England schoolboy international reacted instantly, volleying a shot from a tight angle midway inside the Everton penalty area past a crowded six-yard-box and into the back of the net.

"He'll never forget this!" exclaimed BBC Match of the Day commentator John Motson after Turner's first senior goal, which came at the age of 17 years and 166 days. The winger remains our youngest goalscorer of the Premier League era and the sixth youngest in the division's history to date after James Vaughan, James Milner, Wayne Rooney, Cesc Fabregas and Michael Owen.

Turner was interviewed for our subsequent home match programme for the Premier League fixture against Manchester United in which he discussed his swift elevation into the Spurs first team.

"I'm as surprised as anyone," said Turner. "It's all happened so quickly but I know that it can end the same way and I could find myself back in the youth side, so I'm making the most of it. I wasn't even playing regularly in the youth side last season and although I played in the first team in a testimonial at Hull City in May, I spent the pre-season training with the youth squad. Then, a week later, I travelled with the senior side to Glenavon just for the experience and it's gone on from there.

"It was difficult at first because of the age gap but, with each opportunity, I only saw it was a one-off so I just did my own thing. It's different once a game starts because everyone is the same then. I'll play in any position and in any side. After my first two Premier League games I was substitute for the youth side in my next match. I didn't mind. The only thing I cared about was would I get on!"

Turner enjoyed a promising debut season in our colours in 1992/93 – making 21 appearances in all competitions in total, mainly as a substitute. In addition to his goal against the Toffees, the winger was also on target in home wins over Manchester City (3-1) and Oldham Athletic (4-1), while he also scored in our 4-2 victory at Brentford in a League Cup second round, second leg tie.

The player only featured in one match for us during the 1993/94 season – a 1-0 victory away to Newcastle on the opening day of the Premier League campaign. In 1994/95, he spent short loan spells with Wycombe Wanderers and Doncaster Rovers, while he was loaned to Huddersfield Town and Southend United in 1995/96. The last of his 23 competitive Spurs appearances came in our 1-1 draw with Leeds United on 14 May, 1995.

Turner – who won nine caps for the Republic of Ireland Under-21 team during his career – signed for Portsmouth in September 1996, scoring three goals in 45 appearances for Pompey prior to a transfer to Crystal Palace in 1998. He also turned out for the likes of Wolverhampton Wanderers, Rotherham United and Rochdale (loan) as well as a series of non-league clubs.

Since retiring from playing in 2008, Turner has held various coaching roles at Wolves, Nottingham Forest and Port Vale. He is currently manager of North West Counties side Alsager Town, where he previously managed between 2012 and 2014.

What He Said

"I'm normally a supplier of goals. All I thought when the goal went in was 'good, it takes us up the table' and which way to turn to celebrate!" – Andy Turner, speaking after his goal

What a year it has been for Heung-Min Son! He might have had to battle through the rigours of a campaign with the added weight of his national team duties, but our South Korean star has still managed to be a shining light for us, stepping up to the plate and delivering time and again as one of our key men this year.

Having twice departed midway through our season to complete his obligations with South Korea, Sonny always returned to north London and produced the goods right when we needed him most.

It has certainly been a busy year on the international scene for him. Last summer, the winger represented his country at the World Cup before playing as part of their Under-23 side at the Asian Games in August, where he captained them to the gold medal. Then, in January, he travelled to the UAE for the Asian Cup but couldn't prevent his side from slipping to a quarter-final defeat to eventual champions Qatar.

As well as his efforts for his national side, he also managed to find the back of the net 20 times in our colours, scoring in all four competitions we entered for the first time in his Spurs career.

And, following the late drama of the events of Wednesday night, Sonny is now part of a Spurs side that will play in its first ever Champions League Final after we defeated Ajax 3-2 in Amsterdam – his first cup final with us since joining in 2015.

"It was such a crazy game but what an amazing feeling. I think it is my best memory and it is history for myself, my country and also for Spurs"

His appearances for us this year, as well his exploits with his nation, mean he has now played over 60 games in the last 10 months yet his endeavour on the pitch has never depleted as he has always seemed to find that extra vigour in his system to push us on further – a higher gear that comes from his unrelenting determination to improve his game, each and every day.

"I didn't expect it to go so well this season, especially as I went away twice with the national team in the middle of it for what were very important tournaments for the team," he » explained. "It meant I missed a few games for Spurs because of that and I feel very sorry because when I left, it was during a very important time for the club as well.

"I've got to play a lot of games for both Spurs and the national team so I'm really happy that I could do that.

"I'm just grateful to the club. The manager and coaching staff were great for me when I went away, and they have been great in helping me throughout this season.

"It's been nice as well to score so many goals this year and that just makes me so happy. It feels great to have had this unbelievable season because it's been very busy, especially with the progress we have made in Europe - especially to have reached the Champions League final, I can't believe it!

"I'm always thinking about improving as well. It's always my goal to have an even better season than the one previous.

DID YOU KNOW:
No player in the Spurs squad has been directly involved in more goals this season than Heung-Min Son (20 goals, 10 assists).

"I want to improve every single day and every single game. It's not easy but with the help of my team-mates who are so good around me, they make me so happy and that's why I can play all season, the whole 10 months, and perform well. I try to enjoy every single moment and I try to step up each season."

Son's best moments for us this term have perhaps come during our most depleted periods - in spells where our attacking forces of Harry Kane, Dele Alli, Christian Eriksen and Lucas Moura have been unavailable to us at various times.

Such moments include his return from the Asian Cup at the start of 2019, when he scored in three consecutive games against Watford, Newcastle United and Leicester City at Wembley to help us seal maximum points and keep us in the fight towards the top of the Premier League table.

He has also become a key man in what has » been a special Champions League campaign for us. Despite being unable to find the target in the group stages, Son continued his remarkable record of scoring against Borussia Dortmund with his ninth goal in his 12th appearance against the German outfit and then he went onto score three times in our two-legged quarter-final tie with Manchester City to help us through to the final four. Then on Wednesday night, we went one step further and reached the final of the competition in the most dramatic fashion.

Having found ourselves 3-0 down on aggregate in Amsterdam and with just 45 minutes of football to play, we had to quickly resurrect our campaign. Lucas Moura gave us a lifeline with two goals in four second-half minutes to put us back in the tie, but we still needed to score that all important third goal that would send us through via the away goals rule.

Chances would come and go for us to score that crucial strike, but we couldn't quite find another way past the resolute Dutch side. As the night drifted on, time was running out.

However, if we've learnt anything from this season, it is that this is not a competition where we should ever stop believing, knowing we will always get one final chance. And, with just literally seconds left on the clock at the Johan Cruyff Arena, that chance would come and it was Lucas once again who wrote his name into the history books as he found a way through to fire us into June's Madrid final.

"The team spirit against Ajax was unbelievable, especially in that second half. We created so many chances"

"The players realise they need to take up the responsibility under the pressure," he discussed.

"They feel it because, if a player gets injured, someone has to step up. So, everyone is ready to do that but then people are going to watch you even more. I don't care about more people watching me, but you do feel more pressure in those situations.

"You try to really enjoy those moments though and I've been really lucky – enjoying football is the most important part of the game.

"As a player, you don't even need to think about motivation for games like the Champions League because of the size of the competition. We have performed well on those nights because they are the occasions and games that we have been preparing for.

"Of course, the Premier League is massive but when you make progress in Europe, like we have done this season, we are really happy and lucky to have done that.

"The team spirit against Ajax on Wednesday was unbelievable, especially in that second half. We created so many chances, but we just believed and that's why we scored that late goal.

"It was such a crazy game but what an amazing feeling. I think it is my best memory and it is history for myself, my country and also for Spurs."

Our journey to the final of the Champions League this season is just another sign of the progress that the club has made on the pitch.

Add in the clinching of Champions League football for a fourth successive season – something which is all but secured, baring a dramatic turn of results today that would require an eight-goal swing between our clash with Everton and Arsenal's trip to Burnley - it shows that we have continued to make even further headway in consolidating our place in the Premier League's top four.

That progress has also continued off the pitch as well this season, especially with our return to N17 to move to our new 62,062-seater home.

And the opening of our new stadium was duly christened by Sonny, as he scored the first-ever goal at Tottenham Hotspur Stadium when we defeated Crystal Palace 2-0 in last month's inaugural fixture.

"When I arrived four years ago, a lot of things were changing such as players, us as people and the team as a whole. We have grown so much because we have been improving each and every season," our number seven explained.

"People can say, 'well you haven't won a trophy,' but sometimes these things take time and you have to get the timing right.

"I think we are very positive in that mindset as we know we are very close to that success. You look at the Premier League and we are so close, it's just the last few steps and we'll learn from this season and put that in place ahead of the new term.

"But yes, it has been a very special year for me with the goals I have scored, especially in that first game at the new stadium. It made me so proud and so happy to get that first ever goal.

"Sometimes I can't even begin to think about the fact I actually scored the first goal ever at the new stadium. You almost don't realise the significance of it because it is so special.

"I'm just really grateful for the opportunity to play in that stadium and a big thanks to the players for giving me that chance to score. I'm just really happy and a very lucky guy."

BREAKING NEW GROUND

AS WE CONTINUE TO CELEBRATE THE OPENING OF THE TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR STADIUM, ANDY GREEVES TAKES A LOOK AT OTHER 'NEW' STADIA WE HAVE PLAYED AT, WHICH HAVE OPENED SINCE THE INCEPTION OF THE PREMIER LEAGUE IN 1992. THIS AFTERNOON, HE EXPLORES THE HISTORY OF WIGAN ATHLETIC'S DW STADIUM.

In February 1995, former professional footballer and businessman Dave Whelan bought Wigan Athletic Football Club for a fee of around £1m. In the years that followed, the Latics experienced a major upturn in fortunes, which began with their Third Division title success in 1997.

That same year, the club announced plans to build a new stadium in the Newtown area of the town, which would be shared with Orrell Rugby Union Football Club. Following Whelan's purchase of Wigan Warriors a year later, the rugby league side were added to the venue's roster of tenants, with the construction of the £30m ground – built by Alfred McAlpine – having begun by that time.

Wigan Athletic drew 1-1 in their final match at Springfield Park – which had served as the club's home since their formation in 1932 – against Manchester City in a Second Division Play-Off semi-final, first leg tie on 15 May, 1999. The Latics moved into their new stadium – then known as the JJB Stadium, after Whelan's company, JJB Sports – that summer.

The Latics' first game at the JJB Stadium was a friendly against Morecambe on 1 August, 1999. Three days later, the venue was officially opened as Wigan Athletic took on Manchester United. Sir Alex Ferguson's side, who had won the 'treble' – the UEFA Champions League, Premier League and FA Cup the previous season – ran out 2-0 winners thanks to goals from Paul Scholes and Ole Gunnar Solskjaer. The club's first competitive match there saw them beat Scunthorpe United 3-0 in a Second Division match on 7 August.

Wigan Warriors played their first game at the JJB Stadium against Castleford Tigers on 19 September that year while Orrell were based there between 1999 and 2000. A series of Great Britain rugby league test matches have been staged at the venue, including a 24-12 triumph over Australia in November, 2004 and a 28-22 victory against New Zealand three years later. The ground was also the setting for England's 34-6 triumph over France at the 2013 Rugby League World Cup.

Wigan Athletic were promoted to the second tier of England football for the first time in 2003, having won the old Second Division title. Then, in 2005, the club which had been a non-league side as recently as 1978, finished second in the Championship to gain entry to the Premier League.

The Latics thrived in the top flight and were second in the division when we visited the JJB Stadium for the first time on 26 November, 2005. Goals from Robbie Keane and Edgar Davids saw us win 2-1 that afternoon and move to within a point of our hosts in the table. The following season, Keane bagged a brace and Dimitar Berbatov was also on target in our 3-3 draw in WN5, while Emile Heskey, Leighton Baines and Kevin Kilbane netted for the home side.

Berbatov and Heskey scored for their respective teams in our 1-1 draw at the JJB Stadium on 19 April, 2008. The following month, Manchester United secured their 17th top-flight title at the ground. Goals from Cristiano Ronaldo and Ryan Giggs gave the Red Devils a 2-0 win in front of the venue's record attendance of 25,133.

Our only defeat there to date came on 11 January, 2009, as a stoppage-time goal from Maynor Figueroa goal gave Wigan a 1-0 win. A few months later, the stadium became known as the DW Stadium after chairman Dave Whelan's company DW Sports Fitness. Following our 9-1 triumph over the Latics at White Hart Lane in November, 2009, we completed the 'double' over Wigan that season with a 3-0 triumph at the DW Stadium on 21 February, 2010. Jermain Defoe opened the scoring with his sixth goal against the Latics that campaign, while Roman Pavlyuchenko netted twice in our 3-0 away success.

After a goalless draw at the venue on 2 April, 2011 we enjoyed another win there on 24 September that year. Rafael van der Vaart and Gareth Bale scored in our 2-1 win that afternoon, while our most recent visit to the DW Stadium ended in a 2-2 draw on 27 April. 2013. Bale and an own-goal from Emmerson Boyce helped us secure a point that day.

Wigan pulled off one of the greatest shocks in FA Cup Final history in May, 2013, beating Manchester City 1-0 in the showpiece occasion at Wembley Stadium. Three days later, a 4-1 defeat at Arsenal saw the Latics relegated from the Premier League after an eight-year stay.

With the stadium currently celebrating its 20th anniversary, Wigan Athletic executive chairman Darren Royle recently announced his intention to use the ground as a concert venue in the near future.

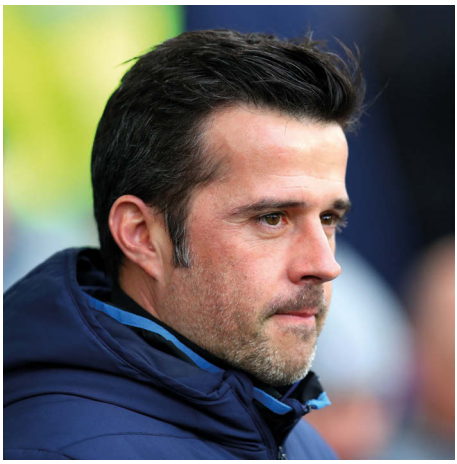
Manager:

MARCO SILVA

The Portuguese coach came to prominence in England with a spell at Hull City, taking over at the start of 2017 before moving to Watford that summer. However, after a strong start to the season, he left his role at Vicarage Road in January, 2018, and then was appointed by Everton in May that year. Ahead of his time in England, Silva started out in Portugal at Estoril before taking over at Sporting in his home city of Lisbon. A move to Greek side Olympiakos followed in 2015, and he led the club to the league title at the end of the 2015/16 campaign.



Form Guide:

Everton have enjoyed a fine run of results at Goodison Park in recent times, with convincing victories over top-six sides Chelsea, Arsenal and Manchester United, the latter by an eye-catching 4-0 scoreline. However, their two most recent visits to London were a goalless draw with Crystal Palace and a 2-0 defeat to already-relegated Fulham at Craven Cottage. Marco Silva will be keen to transfer their excellent home form to their away fixtures this afternoon.

WEMBLEY SURPRISE

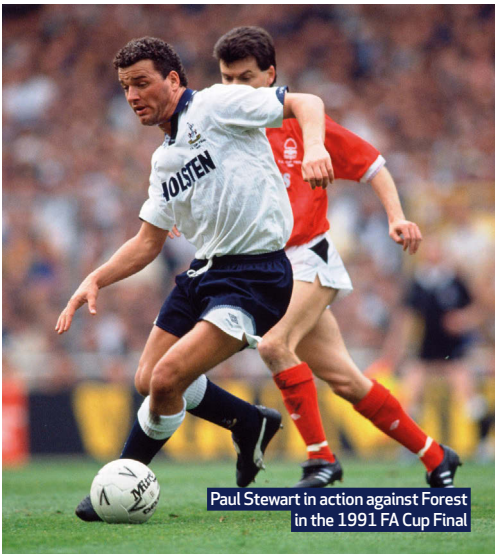
ROUNDING OFF THE SERIES FOCUSING ON CLASSIC MATCH WORN TOTTENHAM HOTSPUR SHIRTS THAT FEATURE IN THE STUNNING COFFEE TABLE BOOK, THE SPURS SHIRT, CO-AUTHOR SIMON SHAKESHAFT TAKES A CLOSER LOOK AT THE POPULAR UMBRO HOME SHIRT FROM THE EARLY 1990S

Tottenham Hotspur sprang a major surprise when we walked out at Wembley for our ninth FA Cup Final appearance with a completely different look than when we had defeated Arsenal in the semi-final on the same pitch just five weeks earlier.

Spurs had worn hummel kit during that famous defeat of our arch-rivals, with Paul Gascoigne scoring a thunderous 30-yard free-kick past David Seaman. Indeed, the very superstitious Gazza is said to have been unhappy with the change of kit for the final as he thought it would be unlucky.

Hummel had produced some fantastic Spurs shirts, but the commercial deal – which had seen Spurs act as the Danish manufacturer's UK distributor – hadn't been a success. So, with a new contract with Umbro already signed for the 1991/92 season, the club took the decision to parade the new strip at Wembley even though it was still under contract to hummel.

The new Umbro look was strikingly different. The shirt was elegant and classy. It had a stylish, modern cut but the baggy shorts gave the kit a distinctly retro feel. The shorts caused something of a stir, especially when compared with the skimpy numbers sported by the Nottingham Forest players, whose kit – also manufactured by Umbro – looked old-fashioned and outdated in comparison.



Paul Stewart in action against Forest in the 1991 FA Cup Final

Despite the loss of the talismanic Gascoigne to injury in the first half, the Lilywhites – inspired by goal-scoring Man of the Match Paul Stewart – won a record eighth FA Cup, and the resulting financial boost (along with the sale of Gazza to Lazio) helped the club fend off a looming financial crisis that had been caused in part by the hummel venture.

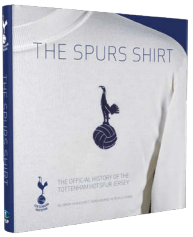
This shirt – which was subsequently worn for the final league match of the season against Manchester United, and then for the next two campaigns – went on to be a huge seller for the club and remains one of the most popular replica Spurs shirts of all time.

KIT BITS

There was a serious breakdown in the relationship between Spurs and hummel towards the end of the manufacturer's contract. Immediately after the famous semi-final win over Arsenal, the Danish company set about producing a set of bespoke shirts for the FA Cup Final.

Hummel only discovered that the shirts they'd prepared, complete with FA Cup final match embroidery, would not be worn for what they thought was going to be their swansong with Spurs when the club sent them back.

These shirts were then sold to retail sports shops and those that have survived occasionally appear for sale on online auction sites.



The Spurs Shirt is an official club publication and is exclusively available from all official Tottenham Hotspur stores and online at shop.tottenhamhotspur.com. Price £30.

HERE & THERE

BRINGING TO LIFE ARCHIVE IMAGES AND REFLECTIONS ON PAST HOME AND AWAY ENCOUNTERS BETWEEN SPURS AND EVERTON

BY JOHN FENNELLY

HOME

Les Allen heads for goal during our 2-0 triumph over Everton at White Hart Lane in August, 1960. It was the opening day of what proved to be a special season for us as Bill Nicholson's men went on to achieve an historic 'Double' of League and FA Cup.

However, the Toffees made us wait as Johnny Carey's side defended resolutely with goalkeeper Albert Dunlop to the fore. We finally broke through in the last five minutes when Allen and Bobby Smith scored but we suffered a big loss when Cliff Jones limped off with an ankle injury that would sideline him for a month.

Allen's goal on 85 minutes saw him take advantage of a goalmouth melee in which Smith was sent crashing. As we frantically appealed for a penalty Les nipped in to beat Dunlop with a low drive. Smith then made sure with a precise header from a John White cross.

The return at a foggy Goodison Park in December saw Dave Mackay net a long-range cracker as we won 3-1. Both Scottish international Jimmy Gabriel and Jones saw efforts come back off the woodwork before White gave us 36th minute lead against our closest rivals in the title race.

Allen added a second four minutes later and England man Frank Wignall reduced the arrears three minutes into the second-half before Mackay's 35-yarder settled any anxiety we may have felt.

Everton finished fifth in the table while Aston Villa won the inaugural League Cup – although the final was held over until the start of the following season! Newcastle and Preston were relegated, replaced by Ipswich and Sheffield United.

Chelsea's Jimmy Greaves was the league's top scorer with 41. Danny Blanchflower was 'Footballer of the Year.'

AWAY

England centre-forward Ted Harper gets in a header during our 4-2 defeat by high-flying Everton at Goodison Park in Division Two in October, 1930. The Toffees would go on to top the table and so gain promotion, going up alongside West Brom while we were three points behind the Baggies in third place.

Harper would go on to finish as our top league goalscorer that season with 36 but it was understudy Jimmy Smy who shone for us at Goodison that day with both our goals. He would score just six for us in total in his 17 league appearances.

The home goals came from England international trio Tommy Johnson (penalty), Dixie Dean and Arthur Rigby with Scotland's Jimmy 'Ginger' Dunn also on target.

Harper had his revenge in the March return at White Hart Lane when he hit the winner in our 1-0 success over Everton who were the league leaders on the day with an incredible 104 goals to their credit.

They would finish the season with 121 with no other side in the division reaching triple figures. We managed 88. Dean finished as the Division Two leading scorer with 39 goals.

Unfortunately, the prolific Harper would miss six of our last eight games through injury, a run in which we failed to win any. That dismal sequence ended our own real hopes of promotion.

Arsenal won the First Division title with Aston Villa runners-up. Leeds and Manchester United, who lost 14 consecutive matches, were relegated. In addition to their promotion, West Brom lifted the FA Cup, beating big rivals Birmingham, then in the top flight, in the Wembley final.

Albion had knocked us out at the Hawthorns in round four and then beat Everton in the semi-finals at Old Trafford.

Under-18 Premier League: Spurs 3-4 Leicester City

A positive league season for our Under-18s ended on a flat note as we let slip a 3-1 lead to suffer only our second defeat of the whole campaign at home to Leicester City on 27 April.

We'd gone into the final-day clash with an outside chance of winning the Under-18 Premier League southern division, requiring victory against the Foxes and needing leaders Arsenal to drop points at Fulham in the slightly earlier kick-off. And things seemed to be going well as we outplayed our visitors at Hotspur Way and built up a 3-1 half-time lead thanks to a brace from the returning Rodel Richards and a close-range finish from J'Neil Bennett, Dempsey Arlott-John on target from the spot for Leicester.

But with Arsenal scoring three times in the last 14 minutes to wrap up a 3-0 win against the Cottagers, we went out for the second half playing for pride, only to lose our grip on the contest and allow Leicester to escape as 4-3 winners thanks to a brace from Ethan Fitzhugh and another penalty, this time scored by Ed Elewa-Ipakwu.

The result meant we finished second in the final standings, four points behind the Gunners. Like us, they lost only two games all season, but we drew two of our remaining 20 matches whereas they won all of theirs. We also scored a staggering 81 goals, conceding 26.

Spurs: Kurylowicz, Okedina, Statham (Cirkin 65), A Shashoua (c), Walcott, Binks, Clarke (Thorpe 83), Patterson, Richards (Pochettino 69), Maghoma, Bennett. Substitute (not used): Lo-Tutala.

GETTING TO KNOW... HARVEY WHITE

Central midfielder and set-piece specialist Harvey White is coming to the end of his first full-time season as a scholar – and it's certainly been an eventful one for the 17-year-old.

Born in Maidstone and a former student of The Holmesdale School, Harvey starred for our Under-18s, scoring six times from penalties and free-kicks as they enjoyed a tremendous league campaign. He also stepped up to feature for our Under-23s in recent weeks, helping them retain their Premier League 2 status and filling in at left-back on a couple of occasions.

"I played left-back when I was younger – I also used to play on the left in five-and six-a-side games but nowadays I play more as a central midfielder," explained Harvey, who first started training with the club aged six and has enjoyed a handful of opportunities to train with the first team this term.

"I like to watch Christian Eriksen. He's obviously a midfielder – a bit more attacking – but he's a set-piece specialist and his technique is very good. Also, his awareness is impressive – in the boxes when it's all about possession, he's alive to anything that could happen."

His father David is a lawn bowls champion in Kent but Harvey prefers a different kind of green: "I'm a big fan of golf so Tiger Woods is someone I look up to," he said. "I've been playing for six or seven years. I've never actually had a lesson but this summer I'm going on a golfing holiday to Estepona near Marbella. I feel like I've found a connection with golf – when you hit the ball sweetly it's the same buzz that you get when you strike a football well."

Harvey White

Rather than replica match shirts, Harvey has a collection of other clubs' training tops at home, which he's been given at various youth football tours over the years, including items from PSV, FC Twente, AC Milan, Roma and Newcastle.

Jack Roles scores the first of his treble against Derby

Premier League 2: Spurs 3-1 Derby County

Jack Roles scored a perfect hat-trick against Derby County to secure our Under-23s' Premier League 2 survival on the last day of the season (29 April).

The midfielder lashed home on his left foot after pulling down a cross-field pass from Jamie Bowden to cap a lively start inside seven minutes at Stevenage before heading in Tariq Hinds' cross for 2-1 in first-half stoppage time following Cameron Cresswell's equaliser for the visitors.

It was a tense second half, albeit without many clear-cut chances, but when substitute striker Rodel Richards – on for the injured Troy Parrott – cut back for Roles nine minutes from time, the man of the moment hammered home on his right foot to complete a 3-1 victory, which ensured we remained above West Ham – who won 2-1 at home to Premier League 2 champions Everton – and, crucially, two points outside the relegation zone. We also leapfrogged Leicester on the night to ultimately finish ninth out of 12.

Spurs: Austin, Hinds, White, Oakley-Boothe, Tanganga (c), Lyons-Foster, Markanday (Cirkin 85), Bowden, Parrott (Richards 75), Roles, Tracey (Patterson 90+5). Substitutes (not used): Kurylowicz, Dinzeyi.

Derby County: Ravas, Gordon, Anya (Karic 17), Bateman (c), Wassall, Hunt, Wilson (Bird 67), Elsnik, Cresswell (Whittaker 80), Babos, Shonibare. Substitutes (not used): Yates, Knight.

Midfielder Jack Roles has chipped in with his fair share of goals for the Under-23s this season – but was perhaps most pleased with his treble against Derby as it led to his side securing their Premier League 2 status.

"Everyone knew it was vitally important to stay up," said the 20-year-old Cyprus Under-21 international. "It would be terrible for us all if we went down and none of us wanted to have that on our CV so we're really happy in the end. We all know that the standards weren't met at times this season and we're determined to be in a better position going forward.

"I think the early goal against Derby helped us, it settled the nerves but we were confident that if we played our game and worked harder than them, we'd come away with the three points. It felt really good to get the hat-trick, it was a great assist from RJ (Richards) for the third one. I thought he was going to go himself because he's a striker but he found me and I couldn't miss!"

HISTORIC NIGHT AS LADIES SECURE PROMOTION SPOT

Let the celebrations begin!

Spurs Ladies secured a promotion spot in the FA Women's Championship on an historic night for the club, following a hard-fought 1-1 draw against Aston Villa.

A super strike from Jessica Naz in the first minute gave the Lilywhites a dream start, but hosts Villa responded shortly after the interval with an equaliser from Amy West before a nervy 40 minutes followed for Karen Hills' side.

By the final whistle, goalkeeper Chloe Morgan and defender Ashleigh Neville were the toast of the squad as their injury-time heroics prevented a late winner from Villa.

The Ladies' first league draw of the season was enough to seal a top-two finish and avoid having to hunt for three points in the final game of the season, away to third-placed Durham, who, as a result of our achievement, miss out on a promotion spot.

Hills kept the same starting XI who defeated Charlton 3-2 in their last match and within a minute of kick-off at Boldmere St Michaels, Naz was causing havoc in the Villa defence. The young attacker brilliantly beat two defenders thanks to her excellent footwork, before she was eventually fouled to win a free-kick just outside the penalty area.

The resulting set-piece was played short by Coral-Jade Haines to Naz, who curled the ball exquisitely into the top corner from 20 yards.

After conceding, Villa looked dangerous and piled the pressure on, particularly towards the end of the first half with two big chances to level the score from Sophie Haywood and Alice Hassall.

Moments after the break, Rianna Dean had a great opportunity to extend Spurs' lead – the striker made a wonderful run on goal but couldn't find the finish to beat Sian Rogers.

Two minutes later, Villa got their equaliser through West, who slotted the ball into the far corner from the edge of the box.

At the other end of the pitch, Haines almost regained the lead for Spurs – her outstanding volley rattled the crossbar. Then, with the Lilywhites just seconds away from making their dreams a reality, Morgan produced an amazing save to deny Jodie Hutton from a free-kick in stoppage time, before Neville made a goal-line clearance to stop Jade Richards' follow-up right at the end.

The whistle blew seconds later, sparking wild celebrations from players, staff and fans alike.

"I thought the girls were outstanding tonight in tough conditions – Aston Villa were fantastic and credit to them they completely made a game of it," manager Hills said.

"The first goal in the early stages probably should have settled us down but if anything it fuelled the game a little bit and it was really end-to-end. We were under a lot of pressure in the second half and the girls dug deep, showed character and we managed to scrape through. It was a hard-fought game and credit to Villa, the 1-1 draw was probably quite fair. We've come a long way in such a short space of time and credit to these players – they completely deserve to be where they are."

Captain Jenna Schillaci beamed: "I'm absolutely over the moon for everyone involved with the club. It's been a tough season for us – we started off so well and put ourselves in a promotion position by January and since then we've had our wobbles.

"But to come here and get the point we needed is amazing, I can't quite believe it – 10 years ago I just started playing because I loved football and I never dreamed that this would happen. When I look back at where the club started, where it is now is a massive credit to everyone involved, especially Glenn (the late Glenn Weaver), who started Spurs Ladies over 25 years ago. I'm so proud of everyone, so proud to captain this team of really talented players and this is just the start."

Following her vital injury-time clearance, Neville added: "To clear it off the line in the 94th minute was crazy and one of the best feelings ever. Chloe (Morgan) pulled off a great save from the free-kick and I just knew it was going to come back in, so I thought I'd stay on the line and luckily it came straight to my head.

"There was a lot of pressure on us and we wanted to get it done and dusted, so we can enjoy the last game. It could have been a better performance from us but we got there, so that's all that matters. It's the first draw we've had this season – what a way to seal the promotion place!"

OBITUARIES

We were sorry to hear of the passing of the following Spurs supporters:

GEORGE O'NEILL, who tragically passed away on 15 April at the age of 20. A lifelong fan, he first came to White Hart Lane when he was six and was at Wembley when we beat Chelsea in the League Cup Final of 2008. He will be sadly missed by all his family and friends.

MICHAEL JOHN BOYCE, who sadly passed away on 29 April, aged 74. A lifelong fan and season ticket holder who never missed a home game, he was a loving father and grandfather who will be missed by all but never forgotten. His love for his family was unwavering and they have no doubt that he will be cheering every kick from the heavens.

LUE PAES, who passed away at the age of 52 on 1 April. A lifelong fan who had battled through illness for many years, he was hoping to see the new stadium but sadly never did. He always had a smile on his face and was a massive inspiration to everyone who knew him. He will be sadly missed by his 13-year-old daughter Anaiya and all his family and friends.

MICK POOLEY, who passed away on 15 April. Born and bred in Tottenham, he watched the Double team and rarely missed a home game since those glory days. He leaves behind a family of season ticket holders, many of whom will be attending today's game.

JEREMY HARTSTONE, a lifelong supporter who passed away on 23 March, at the age of 58. He held season tickets with his son for over 20 years and the tradition will be carried on with his grandson Dylan. He will be forever missed by his wife Jackie, son Bradley, daughter Natalie and the rest of the family.

In loving memory of CLAIRE MAYO, who lost her battle on 2 May but only after she had achieved her ambition of making it to the first match at the new stadium. A loyal supporter who will be much missed and always remembered by Shirley, Rowena, Chris, Anne, Sophie and everyone else who knew her.

We would like to extend our condolences to their families and friends at this sad time.

TOP TIPS HELP KIDS GET UP FOR THE CUP

Our Under-23s players have helped local school children prepare to represent the Club at this year's Premier League Schools Tournament, which is being held at Wolverhampton Wanderers' Molineux Stadium on Tuesday 21 May.

An Under-11 girls team from Greenleaf Primary School and an Under-11 boys team from Raglan Primary School will wear official club kit as they take their place in the tournament alongside 40 other teams representing 20 clubs from the Premier League.

Brandon Austin, Jonathan De Bie, Jonathan Dinzeyi, Tariq Hinds, Jack Roles and Shilow Tracey gave some top tips to the players, including the importance of resting the night before a game, having a nutritional pre-match meal, overcoming the pre-match nerves and working as a team on the pitch.

Over 600 young people from 77 schools competed for a place in the finals after taking part in a series of heats hosted by their local Premier League club. Following the group stages, the tournament will take on a knockout format with the Premier League Schools Tournament champions being crowned and presented with a replica Premier League trophy.

All the students participating at the final will receive an authentic Premier League experience - wearing their local team's kit, using the dressing rooms at Molineux, walking out of the tunnel to the Premier League anthem and even having their matches refereed by Premier League match officials.

Jack Roles said: "It's been a great experience helping the girls and boys prepare for the Premier League Schools Tournament. It's obvious that they have been working hard and putting a lot of practice in, so I am sure they will do well on the day. One of the most important things about football is to have fun, so I would encourage them to enjoy the experience!"

CLUB DELIVERS PRIMARY STARS LESSONS IN THE USA

As part of a new digital education programme launched by the Premier League in the USA, we recently delivered Premier League Primary Stars lessons to children in San Diego. The initiative, which is delivered in partnership with education technology provider EverFi, blends EverFi's existing school resources and those from Premier League Primary Stars to create a bespoke programme which currently engages 12,000 elementary school children in America.

The lessons, which are currently available in schools in Atlanta, Boston, New York, San Diego and Tampa Bay, are all based on the values of healthy living, PSHE and Digital Citizenship and are taught using digital learning techniques and football-themed lessons.

To help promote the programme, the Premier League selected representatives from Tottenham Hotspur, Brighton and Hove Albion, Liverpool and Cardiff City, all who successfully deliver the Primary Stars programme domestically in primary schools in their own local communities, to travel to the USA to run lessons and activities to teachers and students.

During the three day trip, Lucy Peirce, School Sport Development Manager at Tottenham Hotspur Foundation, delivered whole school assemblies, football sessions, active maths lessons and compassion and empathy lessons to children from elementary schools, special needs schools and youth groups in San Diego.

Premier League Primary Stars uses the appeal of the Premier League and professional football clubs to inspire children to learn, be active and develop important life skills. Available to every primary school in England and Wales, it inspires girls and boys aged 5-11 in the classroom, the playground and on the sports field.

Our staff spend one day a week in schools across the Club's local community delivering the Premier League Primary Stars programme and, since August 2016, the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation has inspired over 3,500 children in schools across North London and Hertfordshire while working with over 130 teachers.

Lucy Peirce said: "It's been a privilege to visit so many schools and youth groups in San Diego and pass on our teaching methods and lessons to students and teachers alike. Many of the children we have seen aren't used to learning in an active way, so it's been refreshing for them to be exposed to different ways of teaching. We have been overwhelmed with the amount of positive feedback, and I'm confident that the teachers will take on board our lessons and continue to deliver them once we return to the UK."

Premier League Managing Director, Richard Masters, said: "The Premier League and our clubs place great importance on engaging and inspiring communities. Premier League Primary Stars has been a huge success in the UK, where we have seen the power football has to engage children in learning. We are excited to now extend this programme to the US with bespoke teaching resources which are designed to inspire children to learn and develop important life skills."

A MAGNIFIQUE DOUBLE

IT WAS 20 YEARS AGO THAT OUR FRENCH WING WIZARD DAVID GINOLA COLLECTED BOTH OF THE INDIVIDUAL AWARDS FOR PLAYERS FOLLOWING AN OUTSTANDING SEASON IN 1998/99. PAUL MILES LOOKS BACK…

Turn the clock back 20 years and Manchester United were on the verge of a famous treble. We gave them a scare on the final day of the Premier League season on 16 May, 1999 by opening the scoring at Old Trafford before they came back to beat us 2-1 and pip Arsenal to the title.

They clinched the Double six days later by beating Newcastle United in the FA Cup Final and then secured the treble in dramatic style on 26 May with late goals from Teddy Sheringham and Ole Gunnar Solskjaer to topple Bayern Munich in the Champions League Final at the Nou Camp.

The team has gone down in folklore – Schmeichel, Stam, Neville, Beckham, Keane, Scholes, Giggs, Cole, Yorke, Sheringham, Solskjaer. One of the best teams of the modern era, if not of all-time, led by one of the greatest managers, Sir Alex Ferguson.

The point of all this?

Fans of a certain age will always remember that team and the scale of their achievement cannot be underestimated.

Yet despite making history with a squad that fans around the world could reel off, another player from another team lifted the individual awards that season. And that same team also won the other trophy up for grabs and were the only team to knock United out of a competition.

That team? Tottenham Hotspur. That player? The one and only David Ginola.

The French maestro was at his 'magnifique' best in 1998/99 and was rewarded with his own double of the PFA Player of the Year, voted by his fellow professionals, and the Football Writers' Association Footballer of the Year, awarded by Fleet Street's finest.

He produced a highlight reel of goals as we lifted the League Cup – scoring as we beat United 3-1 in the quarter-final – and reached the semi-finals of the FA Cup. His strike against the Red Devils was pure Ginola.

David with the FWA Footballer of the Year award

Picking the ball up centrally, 35 yards out and faced by Ryan Giggs, he shifted left and arrowed a shot into the corner.

The goals in the FA Cup were even better. A 25-yarder into the bottom corner to earn a replay against Wimbledon in the fourth round; a full volley from 25 yards in the fifth-round replay win against Leeds and then the pick of the bunch, a Ricky Villa-esque dribble that left four defenders in his wake before slotting home the winner in the quarter-final at Barnsley.

Team-mate Darren Anderton, who provided assists for the likes of Teddy Sheringham, Jurgen Klinsmann, Les Ferdinand, Robbie Keane and Jermain Defoe in a 12-year Spurs career, played with David throughout his time at Spurs and described him as 'unplayable'.

"He was ridiculous, really," recalled Darren this week. "When you train with someone every day you can see what they can do and David could do anything. He was so strong on the ball, he could go left, right and his quality on the ball was magnificent.

"It's interesting, when George Graham came in as manager, people were thinking 'he's probably not what you want in a George Graham team' but his quality was that good he couldn't drop him. He produced week in, week out and most times, especially at White Hart Lane, he was unplayable."

Snapped up from Newcastle United in the summer of 1997, David went on to make 127 appearances for us in all competitions, scoring 22 goals. He earned 17 caps for France and won Ligue 1 in 1994 and the French Cup in 1993 and 1995. He began his career at Nice and Toulon and, by the time he played the final match of his career for Everton at Arsenal in May, 2002, he'd racked up 503 career appearances.

"The best thing for a footballer is to look around and to see the people in the stadium standing up for you, for your team, for something you've done on the pitch"

David was back at Spurs as part of our Legends team taking on Inter Forever at the new stadium in March. Speaking pitchside at our magnificent arena, no doubt with the thought of what it would be like to hear 62,000 fans singing 'Ginola, Ginola, Ginola…' it all came flooding back.

"I don't want to be too emotional," he said, taking it all in. "The best thing for a footballer is to look around and to see the people in the stadium standing up for you, for your team, for something you've done on the pitch.

"That is the most incredible thing both as a footballer and a person that you can have in your life and something that I will never duplicate anymore. So I think the players will understand that the 62,000 people who come to each game, they want the right result, they want to see a fantastic team and a winning team. The club has everything - the facilities, the infrastructure, everything is going forward in the right direction. The future is so bright.

"The fans always thank me for what I did and I always say 'you know, I just tried to do my job as well as possible'. I used to spend a lot of time with the fans after games at the Lane, good and bad, sometimes laughing, sometimes crying, being part of them. My wife would say 'David, we need to go' but I would be in the car park talking to everyone. I just wanted the best for the club.

"Every time I entered White Hart Lane I tried to make sure everyone went home with a little bit of magic, a little bit of a dream, especially for the kids coming with their mums and dads. For me, this is football."

For the final word, back to Darren. "There was an aura about David, for sure, but he also had a lovely way about him. He made people feel good about themselves, he's a real gentlemen and of course, in terms of Tottenham Hotspur, when you think about all the players that have been here over the years, David Ginola just fitted the bill. He got fans off their seats and at Spurs, that's what it's all about."
